Manpower Survey Team Selected

A household survey, designed to identify the overall manpower needs of unemployed and underemployed persons in the county will begin in Hope Monday according to Teddy Jones, manager of the local Employment Security Division office. The survey will also determine if existing manpower training programs are meeting the needs of trainees, employers, and prospective employers he said.

Headed by Mrs. Geraldine D. Pruden, who also directed the '70 census, a group of ten surveyors, all residents of Hempstead County, completed a weeks training prior to beginning the survey. In addition to Mrs. Pruden the other survey workers are: Doris Corinne Ewell, Patmos; Mae S. Lane, Bingen; Mary Ruth Martin, Hope; Clara S. Boyce, Columbus; Norma W. Roberts, De Ann; May Elizabeth Jefferies, RFD Hope; Shirley Davis, Hope; Ruby Herring, Hope; and Margaret Williamson, Hope.

Most of this group also worked on the federal census. These workers will carry official letters

Dock Union Head Orders Return

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dock union leader Harry Bridges has ordered 15,000 West Coast longshoremen back to work Saturday in compliance with a court order obtained after President Nixon invoked the Taft-Hartley Act.

A strike by 45,000 dock workers in East Coast and most Gulf ports entered its second week today and spread Thursday to Puerto Rico.

Also going into its second week today was a soft coal strike by more than 100,000 members of the United Mine Workers as negotiations continued in Washington, D.C.

The West Coast strike, the longest walkout on Pacific docks in history, has cost an estimated $1.7 billion since it began July 1. Losses in the East Coast and Gulf walkouts are estimated at $17 million daily.

Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, sent telegrams to all 28 Pacific locals between the Mexican and Canadian borders, telling them to instruct their men to return to work with the first shift Saturday.

His telegram said the ILWU strike strategy committee voted unanimously to respect a restraining order issued here Wednesday night by U.S. District Court Judge Spencer Williams.

At the request of both union and management, U.S. District Court Judge William T. Sweger postponed from today to Oct. 15 a hearing to convert Williams' 10-day temporary restraining order into an injunction for an 80-day cooling-off period under terms of Taft-Hartley Act.

In granting his restraining order, Williams, a recent Nixon appointee, said the strike was threatening the "national health and safety" and was having a "devastating effect" on the nation's economy.

The Pacific Maritime Association, representing 120 employers, said 249 ships were tied up in 24 ports. Estimates of how long it would take to clear the cargo varied from a month to six weeks.

Critics of Tax Bill Ask More for Consumer

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two powerful critics of President Nixon's tax-cut bill say its thrust should be toward increasing consumer buying power, not boosting purchase of more plants and equipment.

Sens. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and Vance Hartke of Indiana joined two other Senate Finance Committee Democrats in announcing Thursday they'll try to revise Nixon's bill to give a bigger break to individuals.

Harris and Hartke said there already is a big idle plant capacity in the nation.

Harris urged $6 billion in tax benefits in the $15.4-billion tax cut measure be diverted to cuts in lower-income-bracket payments.

Hartke pushed for a 20-percent boost in Social Security benefits and a $1,000 personal income tax exemption.

They were joined by committee Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., in the call for revision of the bill.

They announced their objections to Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally as he appeared to open the committee's public hearings on the House-passed bill.

There was some question, however, whether the senators would agree on the changes they want, then be able to round up the nine votes needed to get them through the committee.

The committee's seven Republicans seemed to line up solidly behind Connally's position and at least two Democratic conservatives might go along with them.

Long said the bill is unbalanced in favor of business and the Senate should redress this. He also insisted something be done to roll back high interest rates.

Ribicoff said the measure ignores problems of poverty-stricken families. He suggested the $5.5-billion welfare-reform plan be attached to the bill.

But Long, a bitter foe of the welfare-reform plan, opposed this maneuver, declaring he would lead a lengthy fight against it. Nixon's welfare bill is stalled in committee.

Jumping to Conclusion Sometimes Shows Just How Wrong You Are

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions: The thing a woman who has just turned 30 envies and resents most in life is a bubbly, enthusiastic girl who has just turned 20. The older woman is too forcibly reminded of something that has gone from her own world forever.

One of the hardest things to borrow in an office is a shoe-lace.

The prettiest sight on earth is a red-haired, hazel-eyed girl in a green bikini fussing with a broken bikini.

The younger generation is probably the first one in the history of America of which it could be said that probably a majority never in their lifetime had said "giddyap" or "whoa" to a real, live horse.

You have to admire the courage—if not the common sense—of any man who tries to tell a funny story the first day the dentist installs a new set of dentures in his mouth.

Few things annoy a man more than watching a woman put on mascara. It raises dark doubts in his mind as to whether anything about her or women in general is entirely free of phoniness.

SAIGON (AP) — A top South Vietnamese field commander today credited U.S. air support with turning the tide of battle along the Cambodian border and said it demonstrated the need for such support to continue.

"I think the U.S. air support has made the difference," said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Xuan Thinh. Thinh was referring to heavy bombing attacks and logistical support given his troops in turning back a North Vietnamese offensive along the south Vietnam-Cambodia frontier in the past two weeks.

Fighting tapered off sharply on Tuesday with the withdrawal of the main force of enemy troops. But military spokesmen reported a new flareup today, claiming 50 North Vietnamese were killed near the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Krok.

There also were reports of continued enemy pressure on South Vietnamese Fire Base Alpha, 3 1/2 miles east of Krok, and on U.S. artillery base Pace, just inside Vietnam and seven miles to the south. A small clash a few miles farther south also was reported.

Informed sources said U.S. tactical fighter-bombers have flown as many as 70 combat strikes since the North Vietnamese launched their drive Sept. 26 in the frontier region 60 to 90 miles northwest of Saigon.

Air Force B52 bombers have logged another 100 strikes against enemy troop concentrations and supply bases, while helicopters have flown thousands of sorties ferrying troops and supplies.

South Vietnamese aircraft also are supporting the drive but have a limited capability that requires heavy assistance by the Americans.

The South Vietnamese air force is flying about 50 per cent of the tactical air strikes, 40 per cent of the troop and supply missions and 25 per cent of the helicopter gunship missions, field commanders said.

Thinh said U.S. helicopter support was vital, especially for resupply. South Vietnam has one squadron of heavy helicopters and will acquire its second next month.

All South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia are still being supplied by air because Route 22, which runs north from Tay Ninh forward headquarters to Krok, remains cut on the South Vietnam side of the border.

Here's a difference between the sexes. When a man is flustered and wants to avoid looking self-conscious, he fumbles at his pockets or frowns and fidgets with his wrist watch. A woman merely smiles vaguely as she reaches up and begins to toy with one of her earrings.

A wife who boasts that she never lets her husband smoke a cigar in the house is merely cutting off her nose to spite her face. She is simply giving him another good sound reason for staying away from home.

Most of the people who say they like to read a good book over and over are fibbing. When you discover a really good book, your impulse isn't to keep it to yourself. The first thing you want to do is lend it to a friend so he can enjoy it, too. And since it is well known that good friends never return a book, you never get a chance to read a good book more than once.

Most of the books that stay on your shelves are dogs—so bad that no one will borrow them.

American GI Unexpectedly Freed by Cong

By GEORGE ESPER

TAY NINH, Vietnam (AP) — An American soldier, held prisoner by the Viet Cong for more than two years, was set free today and walked barefoot eight hours to safety at an allied base camp 70 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command in Saigon identified him as Staff Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., 23, of Warren, Ohio. They said he was captured Aug. 12, 1969, when his armored unit was ambushed near An Loc, about 15 miles from where he was freed.

He was pronounced in "generally good" condition after being examined at an Army hospital. But field officers who saw Sexton said he looked "a little drawn" and his feet were cut and sore.

There also was some indication he may have suffered an arm wound, they said.

They quoted him as saying he

Employment Up, Number of Jobless Down

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment dipped slightly last month while total employment rose substantially, the government reported today.

Most of the gain, however, was among part-time workers and millions of Americans suffered a drop in weekly earnings because of a shorter average work week, the Labor Department said.

Total unemployment edged down by 221,000 to 4.8 million and the jobless rate inched down from 6.1 to 6 per cent of the nation's work force and the Bureau of Labor Statistics called it "virtually unchanged."

Total employment actually fell 1.4 million, but on a seasonally adjusted basis the bureau figured it at an increase of 300,000 because it usually drops more as youths working for the summer return to school.

The report said average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers dropped 27 cents to $128.76 because of the shorter working hours in many industries. A drop in the length of the work week usually signifies lagging business and production.

The average pay check was $7.03, or 5.8 per cent, above a year earlier but after deduction for the 4.5 per cent in living costs over the period the gain was cut to $1.59 per week.

The bureau said average hourly earnings rose three cents to $3.48, but that this was almost entirely a technical increase because many youths with lower paying jobs quit to go back to school, thus raising average pay for full-time and part-time adult workers. The bureau said that after allowing for this technicality, average pay was figured down one cent per hour.

The bureau said, however, that the total employment in the third quarter of the year ending in September rose 520,000 to 79.2 million on a seasonally adjusted basis for a record quarterly job peak. Total employment had been on a virtual plateau over the previous year, the report said.

Inflation Will Be Checked, Says Connally

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief economic spokesman pledged today that the Phase 2 wage-price controls will be held firm until the nation's inflationary psychology "has been halted and broken."

If necessary, Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally told a news conference, the government will move in to hold the anti-inflation line if the job is not adequately done by the new wage and price agencies announced Thursday night by the President.

Connally heads the Cost of Living Council, which will continue as the top supervisory control agency when the 90-day freeze ends Nov. 13 and the new Pay Board and Price Commission come into being.

The Phase 2 controls will remain in force, he told a questioner, until there is "a basic agreement and feeling throughout the country that the expectations of inflation have subsided."

"We've gone for several years with inflation and the anticipation of inflation," Connally said. "We can't abide it any more."

"We have to reach the point where the people understand that they can hope and expect stability in this economic system."

Connally dismissed the possibility that it might require a great bureaucracy to police the longer-term controls. The job "is fairly simple," he said, and should be manageable by a force of about 3,000 people.

The secretary said his top-level COLC will not act as a review board to veto or uphold price or wage decisions of the new boards.

Cold Front Pushing in Showers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered shower activity is expected to spread across Arkansas tonight.

The precipitation is expected to move into the northwest portion of the state this afternoon ahead of a cold front. Shower activity will spread across the state as the front moves through the area.

The showers should ease over the northwest portion Saturday morning and over the southeast section Saturday afternoon.

Much cooler temperatures are expected behind the front. Highs Thursday ranged from 79 at Memphis to 87 at Texarkana. Highs today should be in the upper 70s northwest to mid 80s elsewhere. Maximum temperatures Saturday are forecast in the upper 60s northwest to mid 70s southeast.

Jury Finds in Favor of Sears

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury Thursday found in favor of Sears in a $150,000 suit filed by J. T. Grisham of Camden.

Grisham, while using a borrowed bench saw a friend had loaned him, said a piece of wood he was cutting was thrown out and hit him in the right eye, causing him to lose the eye.

He contended in his suit Sears that the saw was sold without a safety guard and that information regarding the proper operation of the saw was not supplied.

Nixon Outlines 'Second Phase of Freeze, Urges Voluntary Cooperation

Less Demanding, More Flexible Course on Hikes in Second Phase

By BILL NEIKIRK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After declaring on Aug. 15 that "we will break the back of inflation," President Nixon has set a less demanding and more flexible course on price increases in his Phase 2 economic program.

Instead of demanding zero, or near zero, inflation in the near future, Nixon said he wants to reduce the rate of price boosts to the range of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of 1972.

It is a compromise—and an interim—course, one that will allow the economy to expand without tightly structured, comprehensive controls. "We're not in the business of creating unemployment," said one White House official.

The 2-to-3-per-cent inflation goal would be about half the present level. It is remarkably close to Nixon's forecast in his January economic report to Congress, long before anyone in the administration talked openly of wage-price controls.

The compromise approach came through clearly in a background paper prepared by the White House on Phase 2. The paper appeared to represent the thinking of the Cost of Living Council and Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers.

"The durability of the program requires that it should not exact too great a toll from the economy," it said.

"One implication of this is that the price, wage and rent standards must be sufficiently flexible to avoid pressures that stop production or distortions in the price-wage structure that seriously impair efficiency."

A White House official said, for example, that the Price Board created in Phase 2 will be prepared to listen to complaints from businessmen who might claim the new restraints would force them into bankruptcy.

"It is important that we administer Phase 2 in such a way that you don't short-circuit the expansion," he said.

"These requirements," the White House background paper said, "in turn mean that the ambitions and standards for inflation restraint must not be too rigorous."

The White House said Phase 2 "must give more attention to equity and economic efficiency, must not initially demand zero inflation and, even though for some of these reasons it will be more complex, it must not involve a vast and intrusive bureaucratic machinery."

Proposals at A Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is the rundown on President Nixon's proposals for an anti-inflation effort to go into effect Nov. 14 at the end of the current wage-price freeze:

Goal: A two to three per cent annual inflation rate by the end of 1972. This is about half of the pre-freeze rate.

Price Commission: A seven-member group of distinguished private citizens, to develop yardsticks on prices, empowered to restrain price and rent increases and prevent windfall profits.

Pay Board: Five representatives each of labor, management and the public, to stop inflationary wage and salary increases. All elements of compensation, including wages, salaries and fringe benefits will be subject to its regulation.

Interest and Dividends Committee: Headed by Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns it will apply anti-inflation yardsticks in these areas with care taken not to drive credit from housing or other critical areas.

Health Service: Because of "special difficulties" and lack of standardization, a special committee on this industry will advise on how to restrain cost and price increases.

Cost of Living Council: Will continue to develop anti-inflation goals, review the standards set by the Pay Board and Price Commission and have the power to back them up with government sanctions.

Duration: "Until inflationary pressures are brought under control."

Administration: A national system of regional and local service and compliance centers will be set up under the Internal Revenue Service with about 360 offices and a staff of some 3,000.

Reaction to the presidential message generally was restrained. Economists said they found his battle plans encouraging but probably hard to administer. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said the President "has done what he feels he had to do," but it called for return to "a free economy without inflation" as soon as possible.

Labor's reaction was almost nil. AFL-CIO President George Meany and many other top union leaders simply refused to comment. Even so, Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans said he is confident Meany, a persistent critic of Nixon's economic policies, will be asked to serve on the Pay Board.

Members of Congress indicated they plan some rewriting of the stabilization law, instead of granting Nixon's request for a simple extension.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has outlined a second-phase attack on inflation, based on wage-and-price controls and "voluntary cooperation of the American people."

There will be no ceiling on profits. But Nixon said his administration will call for cancellation of price increases that might result in profit windfalls.

The President wants standby power to control interest rates and corporation dividends—but only "as a safeguard." He will ask Congress shortly for that authority and for a one-year extension of the Economic Stabilization Act under which he froze prices, wages and rents on Aug. 15, and on which he is basing Phase 2.

He announced in a nationally televised address Thursday night that he will appoint two new quasi-independent bodies—a 15-member Pay Board with three representatives each from labor, industry and the public, and a Price Commission of seven public members to administer price-wage-and-rent controls when the current 90-day freeze ends Nov. 13.

The President's anti-inflation goal, said the White House, is to hold consumer prices to a 2-to-3-per-cent annual rate of rise by the end of 1972.

Some economists said that could mean a guideline of 5 to 6 per cent a year for average wage increases, but the White House did not confirm that estimate.

Nixon's address disappointed many who had hoped to hear from him the new guidelines for permitted wage-and-price increases. Officials explained: The guidelines don't yet exist. The new boards still must draft them.

The Cost of Living Council headed by Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally, will keep the top-level supervisory role it is exercising over Phase 1. The two new boards will be "quasi-autonomous," a White House official said, but the council can overrule their price or wage criteria if it feels they would not meet the anti-inflation goal.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce said the President "has done what he feels he had to do," but it called for return to "a free economy without inflation" as soon as possible.

Guards Use Gas to Quell Prisoners

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Guards using tear gas and clubs have put down a two-day strike by prisoners at New Mexico State Penitentiary. Seven inmates were injured.

Authorities said they did not know the cause of the strike and could not establish the number of inmates who actually participated.

State Corrections Secretary Howard Leach said the use of force became necessary Thursday when previously peaceful strikers began breaking windows and furniture in one of the six prison units.

Guards moved into the unit of 38 men, and the trouble set off a chain reaction throughout the prison, Leach said.

"Subsequently the bulk of the other units went out of control and again it was necessary to use tear gas to regain control," he said.

Five inmates had head lacerations that required medical attention, one suffered a broken arm and one had glass fragments in an eye, officials said.

Within 90 minutes after guards moved into the first unit, all units had been cleared and all prisoners were locked in individual cells, Leach said.

The inmate boycott of meals and work routines started Wednesday morning, but guards retained control of the main hallway of the modern institution and were able to keep strikers within their assigned units, which flank the hall.

Prison officials were conducting interviews with inmates today to determine the causes of the strike.

reached the camp at Loc Ninh, just south of the Cambodian border, with the aid of a crude map drawn for him by his captors.

He also was given a scrap of paper with a message in English and Vietnamese, asking people to assist him in returning to the American side.

The man, a prisoner since August 1969, said he didn't know where he had been held or by what route the Viet Cong brought him to the point of release, officers reported.

The location suggested he may have been held in Cambodia, officers said.

He said he had been "constantly on the move" for a long time and particularly in the last 10 days.

He was freed at 3 a.m. in rough jungle terrain and reached Loc Ninh about 11 a.m.

"He was hobbling and his feet were in bad shape, but otherwise I would say he looked in pretty good shape," one senior U.S. officer said.

He was taken to a hospital at Long Binh, the U.S. Army headquarters post 12 miles northeast of Saigon.

Government Inspectors Are Indicted

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Forty government meat inspectors in the Boston area are under indictment on charges of bribery, conspiracy and perjury in an alleged scheme to give meats better grade ratings than they deserved.

The indictments, returned Thursday in U.S. District Court after an investigation which began in 1969, include a charge that one inspector took $54,500 to $70,500 in bribes.

U.S. Atty. Herbert F. Travers Jr., who outlined the indictments, said there was no allegation that unwholesome meats were allowed to reach the consumer. The inspectors allegedly took bribes to put higher quality grades on meat products.

In addition to the 40 inspectors, three meat processing companies and six company officials in the Boston area were indicted on the same or related charges.

Dozens of FBI agents and investigators of the Department of Agriculture worked in the probe. A grand jury examined the case, and no other matters, for 18 months.

The indictments charge that the inspectors were bribed with money, meat, liquor and other items.

The punishment for bribery begins at fines of $1,000 to $10,000 plus one to three years imprisonment and discharge from office. It goes up to fines of $20,000 or three times the value of the amount received, whichever is greater, and imprisonment up to 15 years.

For conspiracy the punishment on conviction for a felony can be a fine of $10,000 or five years imprisonment or both.

Agriculture officials in Washington said the bribery charges involved in part the payment of overtime claimed by the inspectors.

The officials said the government cannot pay inspectors for more than a 40-hour work week. However, meat processors may request that inspectors work overtime and then reimburse the government. It was alleged that some of the firms knowingly paid for overtime not worked.

The inspectors indictment constitute more than half of the 75 assigned to the Boston area.

Travers said new inspectors have been assigned to replace the men indicted.

Not Ready to Guarantee Wage for All

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ted Boswell of Little Rock told Young Democrats at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock Thursday that he was not ready to favor a guaranteed wage for everyone, but he could see the need for the federal government taking over a new welfare program.

Boswell, who is considered a possible candidate next year for the U.S. Senate position of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., also commented on the seniority system in Congress.

"If seniority has been so great for Arkansas, will you tell me why we are 49th and 50th in almost every category?" Boswell asked.

He said that seniority has done some good things for the country but it also has been abused.

New Element in Fight for Nat'l China

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. officials have injected a new element into the fight to keep Nationalist China in the United Nations—the American financial support for the world organization.

It would be difficult, one official said Thursday, for the United States to extend aid of the past magnitude if the Taiwan government is expelled. The U.S. contribution toward U.N. expenses is greater than that of any other country.

He said the financial aspect has been discussed by Secretary of State William P. Rogers in the dozens of meetings with foreign ministers over the last two weeks.

The emergence of American aid for the United Nations is not intended as a threat designed to force other countries to support the U.S. plan for keeping the Nationalists in while also making the Communist government a member, the officials said.

Rather, they stated, it is only a fact of life as represented by sentiment in Congress.

According to the U.S. sources, 27 senators and more than 300 House members have

Republicans Meet

Charles Bernard of Earle, State Chairman of the Arkansas Republican Party, was a guest of the Hempstead County Republican Women's Club on Tuesday, October 5. Husbands of members were also guests for the dinner at Perry's Restaurant.

Mrs. Paul Rawson presided and introduced Mrs. Jim Pruden, newly elected State President of the women's group, and Mr. Bernard.

He made an interesting and informative talk urging mostly a sound second party in the state and getting benefits from which Arkansas would profit.

The speaker flew his own plane to Hope and was met at the local airport by Clyde Fouse and Haskell Jones.

Coming, Going

Bill Adams of Memphis visited relatives in Hope Thursday en route to Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Amos have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Harold Willhoite, and family in Broken Arrow, Okla., and last Saturday they attended the funeral for Mr. Willhoite's father, Irvin Willhoite of Cowetta, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Lance Jones will arrive Friday night from New Orleans to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Jones en route to Lawton, Okla., where they will make their home.

OFF TO SCHOOL they go, a group of boys which includes, front left, Prince Edward, 7, youngest child of Britain's Queen Elizabeth. Previously tutored in Buckingham Palace, he is attending a preparatory school in London's Kensington section this year.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

IF THIS IS "SICK," STAY WELL!

Dear Helen:

Thought you'd be amused by a friend's recent experience in the emergency ward of a local hospital. In a bad fall, she injured her left hand, figured at least one finger was broken, hence the quick trip to emergency. She spent three hours there and $55. This is what went on:

Enter doctor, who examines fingers, decides on X-ray, sends her to X-ray department.

Technician: Put your right hand on the desk.

Janet: But it's my left hand that is injured.

Technician (hesitating): Well, I guess you know which it is. (Gets on with the X-ray of left hand.)

Back in the emergency room, after a long wait, doctor appears with another doctor in tow.

First doctor: Have you ever had trouble with your wrist before?

Janet wriggles wrist: No. Second doctor: She shouldn't wiggle her wrist if it's broken. Janet: My wrist isn't broken. But my fingers, doctor.

First doctor: Aren't you Mrs. Green?

Janet: No, I'm Mrs. Turner. Doctors depart. Much later first doctor returns, with X-ray which he puts in front of the light as if it were of the right hand.

Doctor: There don't seem to be any breaks.

Janet: Aren't you looking at that wrong, doctor? It's my left hand, not the right one.

Doctor (turning X-ray around): Oh yes, there is a break in the second finger, but the other one is all right. (Janet wonders how it only shows up on one side of the picture but doesn't ask.)

Doctor: I think it will only need taping. (Goes away).

Enter nurse with a hypodermic.

Nurse: If you'll bend over I'll give you this in the hip. Janet: What's that for?

Nurse: Aren't you Mrs. Green?

Janet: (resignedly): No, Mrs. Turner.

Nurse departs. Another wait. It is now three hours since Janet entered the emergency room and chuckled at the sign, "None in bathing suit or bare feet allowed in here." (You get bitten by a shark and have to change your clothes yet?)

Finally doctor returns to tape up finger.

Janet: Don't bother. You might get my ankle by mistake. Why don't you go find poor Mrs. Green?

She leaves with one parting shot: I only hope I have a heart attack on the beach, I'm bot brought here! —MABELLE

Dear Mabelle: Forgive the pun, but I can't resist: Janet's experience was enough to Turner Green. —H.

Dear Helen: Is there such a thing as homosexuality in dogs? My male dog has every other male dog on the block moonstruck over him. —

WORRIED Dear Worried: I don't know, but whatever you do, don't take him to the psychiatry department of Mabelle's hospital (see above). He might come back thinking he is a cat. —H.

Fashionable coordinate ensembles are a must for the woman on the go, whether the get-away is a long weekend, regular vacation or business trip.

The addition of a two- or three-piece ensemble to your wardrobe can mean fashion versatility as well as lighter luggage. A skirt teamed with a blouse, vest or jacket is ideal for traveling, shopping or business meetings, while a vest or sweater with slacks is perfect for casual wear.

Add a jacket to either the skirt or slacks for a smart look that goes everywhere, and you've created your own fashionable wardrobe for all occasions.

Many of the new weekend ensembles are available in a wide variety of mix-and-match colors and patterns, and are fashioned of versatile synthetic blends for easy care. They're hand washable and require no ironing, allowing for more time to enjoy those get-away days!

The Little Guy

Ask a child what he wants more than anything else in this world and he'll tell you that he wants to grow up, to be an adult, on his own, his own boss...to do what he wants, when he wants, where he wants, the way he wants.

And when this time comes, as it inevitably will, the type of adult that he will be depends, to a great extent, on the type of adult you are. What example have you given your children to follow? What values have you stressed? What have you taught them that they can use?

Proverbs 22:6 says, "Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Little guys don't last forever. Prepare them for the future while you still have the chance. Start them out right. Start them out with God.

So They May See = The Acts 3:1-13 = So They May Hear

NOW PETER AND JOHN went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour.

2. And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3. Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms.

4. And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us.

5. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6. Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.

7. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength.

8. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

AND ALL THE PEOPLE saw him walking and praising God:

10. And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11. And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

12. And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13. The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I remember when people used to take a dose of calomel in the spring to "clean out their system." I don't hear that being used now. What could one take that would serve the same purpose?

Dear Reader—Your question prompts me to observe that slowly knowledge does liberate man from foolish notions held fervently to be beneficial for one's health.

In the first place there is no need to "clean out the system." Ideas of this sort originate from the primitive association of excrement with evil and ridding oneself of it is tantamount to eliminating evil. The system is best left alone and treated with a good healthy normal diet and adequate exercise.

Secondly, calomel is a potential poison. It is a mercury salt, and when it works as expected it prevents the normal absorption of salt and water from the intestine. The accumulated material results in catharsis. If everything doesn't go as expected a considerable amount of mercury can be absorbed from the intestine leading to mercury poisoning. With all the current interest in mercury poisoning from our waterways, this needs no further comment.

A common misconception was that the greenish stools passed after taking calomel was evidence that calomel was increasing the amount of bile and emptying the body of this bilious substance. This was not true. The mercury merely prevented the normal bacterial action in the bowel that turns bile pigment from green to brown.

In its day of glory I am sure that if a medical columnist had tried to help people by giving them these facts on calomel he would have received a barrage of letters similar to some I have received on current fads. It is indeed encouraging to take note of the passing of an obsolete and dangerous practice.

Dear Dr. Lamb—How does the body get enough food?

South applied the code word ARCH. He analyzed the lead and went up with dummy's queen of hearts. When it held he knew the lead was fourth best of what probably was a live-card suit. He counted eight top winners. How could he make his contract?

One way would be to start by leading a club from dummy. If East didn't hold both king and queen he could keep him out of the lead and develop his ninth trick.

This looked like good enough odds to South. He led a club and East played his queen. South abandoned clubs temporarily to check the diamonds. Three rounds in the suit from the bad news. So South went back to clubs. Maybe East did not hold the king.

East did. He took that and his jack of diamonds. Then he led a heart and South was down two.

South did not look long enough at trick two. He would have found an extra line of play by leading a low diamond from dummy and playing the eight if East played low. This would have worked and South would have made his ninth trick in diamonds.

Suppose East held both jack and 10 of diamonds. South would take the three tops and would still have the club suit to fall back on.

sugar if one leaves out every bit of sweets from his diet?

Dear Reader—Fruits, vegetables and cereals contain carbohydrates. Eating these fresh or cooked without sweets provides carbohydrate. Any starch, such as in a potato, is acted upon by enzymes to convert its food value to glucose, the sugar the body uses for fuel. Fats, extra protein and food elements not used for fat stores or building tissue are converted to glucose for energy.

Hope Star SPORTS

Crossett Invades Hope Tonight

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Each team wants to win tonight and they both have pretty good reasons. Why? Well, Crossett Coach John Pierce was formerly a Bobcat coach and the Cats would like to keep their record against the Eagles clean as far as playing against Pierce.

Hope won the contest last year, in Crossett, taking a 20-0 half-time lead before having to hold off an Eagle rally in the second half to take a close 20-13 victory.

Crossett's offensive line averages out 19 pounds lighter per man than the Bobcats while the defensive line is slightly less at only 14 pounds per man lighter. Hope should have the edge in speed and quickness, but in this game size and speed may not really even matter.

This has not been one of the Bobcats better weeks as far as practices are concerned, but a short practice yesterday helped morale some and hopefully the Cats are not looking ahead to Arkadelphia.

Linebacker Steve Harris could get in some action tonight but it is doubtful that tackle Tim White will be able to play because of sickness. Hopefully the flu bug will leave soon, as a couple of other Bobcats are out also.

Tonight, providing the Cats play heads up ball with the offense moving the ball steadily and the defense playing tight, Hope will get their fourth victory, possibly a score of 19-7. But don't underestimate the Eagles.

Oklahoma State and TCU Meet at Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Oklahoma State and Texas Christian meet here Saturday night, both smarting from sound defeats by Arkansas, ranked 17th in this week's football poll.

Both can score high and will use the non-conference contest to try to get their defenses working better. Arkansas scored 49 points against TCU and 31 against Oklahoma State.

Texas Christian in particular has been working on a way to stop kickoff returns. Two Horned Frog boots have been run back for touchdowns in this young season.

Oklahoma State has a green defensive corps hit by injuries. But the Cowboys have had an extra week off to prepare for the Frogs and to allow wounds to heal.

Texas Christian can go with two outstanding quarterbacks, Steve Judy and Kent Marshall. But OSU has faced two of the three top passers in the nation this year, losing to Joe Ferguson of Arkansas but beating Dave Strock of Virginia Tech.

Judy, a senior, needs only 98 yards passing and seven pass attempts to break the fabulous TCU record of Sammy Baugh who went on to professional greatness.

Porkers Have Respect for Baylor Bears

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There's something about a conference football opener that provokes extra effort.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles sees it every year when his Razorbacks open Southwest Conference play against TCU.

He gets another look the following week when Arkansas is Baylor's first SWC opponent.

The Razorbacks meet Baylor Saturday night at Waco, Tex.

"We know what to expect every time we play Baylor," Broyles said. "They have their largest pep rally of the year before our ball game. The student spirit and fan support for our game is the best of the year."

We have the same thing when we start the conference season with TCU."

Texas aside, Baylor had more success against Arkansas during the 1960s than any other conference team. The Bears were 3-6-1 against the Razorbacks during that span.

Broyles discounts the theory that Arkansas gives a big effort against TCU and then tails off before preparing for Texas.

"It's not the fact that we don't play well," he said. "It's the fact that they play good against us."

Baylor lost to Kansas 22-0, beat Indiana 10-0 and then dropped a 41-13 decision to Miami, Fla. Arkansas scored impressive victories over California, Oklahoma State and TCU but was surprised 21-20 by Tulsa two weeks ago.

Baylor quarterback Si Southall was injured in the first half of the Miami game and coach Bill Beall said earlier in the week he was unsure if Southall would be able to play. If Southall is sidelined, he'll be replaced by Randy Cavender.

"That boy (Cavender) is an awfully good runner," Broyles said. "And, they have two outstanding running backs in Matthew Williams and Godfrey White. Both have the ability for the long gain."

White leads the conference in kickoff returns, averaging more than 40 yards a return, and Williams is seventh in the conference in rushing.

Broyles says, however, that the strength of Baylor's team is its defense.

"Last year we got a couple of lucky touchdowns and the year before they were tough (21-7)," Broyles said. "Last year, Texas just beat them 21-14. They play an odd defense with a mixed up zone and man for man coverage and they do a good job on us."

Arkansas has quite an advantage on paper. The Razorbacks rank first in the conference in total offense, passing offense and total defense and second in rushing defense and rushing offense. On the other hand, Baylor outranks Arkansas in only one category — pass defense.

Royal said the fact Texas was a 5½ point favorite in the early line "was a stunner to me. But I'm really not too concerned about the line. I must say I'm always curious as to what it is ... I hear about and then it's gone. They (the oddsmakers) must not believe we have any injuries."

Royal said the explosive Oklahoma offense has more experience in the Wishbone-T than the current Longhorn squad.

With quarterback Jack Mildren at the controls and speedy Joe Wylie and Greg Pruitt at halfbacks, Oklahoma has moved overland at the rate of 425.3 yards a game, compared with Texas' 349.3 yards.

Royal said "It's a shame the game will be played without everybody's players healthy."

Physically, Oklahoma was in good shape with Wylie's full recovery expected from a sprained ankle.

Royal said there was little difference in the Wishbone attacks employed by the two teams.

"They have one or two plays we don't use," Royal said. "They have a different type of a pass or two and they run a handoff to the halfbacks into the line of scrimmage."

Royal added "This Oklahoma team is the equal of any team in the nation. They can play with anybody."

Texas owns an all-time 42-21-2 record over the Sooners. And former Oklahoma star Royal's record against his alma mater is 12-2.

Phillips Out as Manager of Angels

ANAHEIM (AP) — Harold "Lefty" Phillips, out as manager of the California Angels after what owner Gene Autry calls "a miserable year," says he "did the best job I could so considering what I had to do it with."

The 52-year-old Phillips was fired Thursday when Autry and Bob Reynolds, club president, announced that his contract was not being renewed.

The Angels may regroup for next season under the leadership of Hank Bauer or Del Rice—the leading candidates for manager.

"I've long admired Hank," Autry said, "and his name keeps coming up in our discussions. We'd also be remiss if we didn't consider Del Rice. He's done a great job in our farm system."

Bauer managed the New York Mets' Tidewater team in the International League this year.

He managed the Baltimore Orioles to a World Series triumph but was fired 1½ years later then hired by Charles Finley of the Athletics, who proceeded to fire him, rehire him and rehire him.

Rice, the Pacific Coast League's Manager of the Year for leading the Angels' Salt Lake City team to a pennant, has 20 years of experience as a major league player and coach.

Jim Fregosi, the Angels' veteran shortstop, may become a manager some day, probably not next year with California.

Highly unlikely," said Autry of the possibility that Fregosi would be a playing manager in 1972.

Also released were Phillips' four coaches: Pete Reiser, Norm Sherry, Rocky Bridges and Fred Koenig.

Series Opens Saturday in Baltimore

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh may find himself biting a little deeper into the cigar he's always chomping on, but as of now he's sticking with problem-plagued Dock Ellis as his starter for Saturday's World Series opener against the Baltimore Orioles.

Ellis, besides his normal difficulty finding hotel accommodations to suit his style, has a tender right elbow that doesn't suit his efficiency on the mound. But Murtaugh still is sticking with his original decision to go with Ellis against Orioles left-hander Dave McNally.

"I've named Dock to start," the Murtaugh explained. "I've not named a replacement if Dock isn't able to go."

And it's not likely that a final decision will be made much before Saturday's 1 p.m., EDT, starting time, following the pattern Murtaugh set during the National League playoffs when he waited until 12 minutes before the game time to replace Nelson Briles with Bob Johnson.

Ellis, meanwhile, had some difficulty when he checked out his hotel room after arriving here with the club Thursday. He and his wife took one look at the accommodations and, before you could say "The Pirates pinch pennies," Ellis had changed rooms.

Murtaugh agreed with Ellis' assessment of the rooming situation, acknowledging they were "not too spiffy," but added: "What the hell's a bed—just a place to lie on, right?"

In that manner, Murtaugh indicated he was more concerned with Ellis' arm than his bed. And even Ellis may have been, for once he straightened out his accommodations to his satisfaction he left for the ball park to see if his elbow would respond to his satisfaction.

It did.

"My arm didn't hurt," he said. "It felt good. I'm ready to go."

Then, when told that Las Vegas oddsmakers have refused to quote a price on the game because of his questionable condition, the controversial right-hander laughingly acknowledged his spreading fame.

"I'm messing up Las Vegas?" he said with a smile. "I'm really getting around."

While Las Vegas shied away, New York oddsmakers established the Orioles as 7½-5 favorites to win their third world championship in the last six years and their second in succession.

They also made the Orioles' slight favorites to win the opener behind McNally, who was 21-5 during the regular season compared to 19-9 for Ellis, the Pirates' big winner.

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver, as concerned about first baseman Boog Powell as Murtaugh is about Ellis, doesn't have Murtaugh's pitching problems, however. He has named right-hander Jim Palmer and left-hander Mike Cuellar to go after McNally.

Powell, who has been bothered by an ailing right hand, had X rays taken Thursday while the Orioles worked out. They proved negative but did show torn fibers in the back of his hand.

Powell, along with the two Robinsons—Brooks and Frank—is a key in a Baltimore offense that hit at a .261 clip with 158 home runs during the regular season compared to 274 and 154 homers for a Pittsburgh team led by outfielder Willie Stargell.

Stargell led the majors in homers with 48, but had a disastrous series against San Francisco in the National League playoffs, going hitless in 14 trips.

But while on paper the two teams appear similar in the hitting department there is a vast difference in pitching. Ellis was Pittsburgh's big winner while Baltimore had four 20-game winner—McNally, Palmer, Cuellar and Pat Dobson.

The Orioles are the only club other than the 1926 Chicago White Sox to ever have four 20-game winners and are one of only three clubs in major league history to record 100 victories or more in three consecutive seasons.

A team many feel is stronger than the team that defeated Cincinnati in five games in the 1970 World Series, the Orioles are starting off with a string of victories that exactly duplicates last year's—11 at the end of the regular season and three straight in the playoffs.

The Pirates lost the first game to San Francisco in the playoffs and then battled back to take three in succession for their first National League pennant since 1960, when they went on to beat the New York Yankees in the World Series.

Bill Mazeroski, the hero of that series with his decisive homer in game No. 7, feels the current Pittsburgh club is stronger than the 1960 squad.

"This team is much better all around," he explained. "This team can overpower you, where we had to finesse and do little things better in 1960."

Red Smith to Join Times Sports Staff

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times announced Thursday it is hiring Red Smith as a sports columnist with Arthur Daley. In addition, they will be joined by a member of the newspaper's sports staff, Dave Anderson.

The realignment resulted from the resignation of Robert Lipsyte, who had shared the column writing chores with Daley since 1967.

Daley and Smith each will write three columns a week. Anderson will do two. The Sunday edition will carry two columns.

Smith gained a wide following during more than 20 years on the old New York Herald Tribune. When it ceased publication in 1966, his syndicated column continued to go to 70 newspapers.

Anderson joined the Times in 1966 and his sports specialties are professional football and boxing.

Daley, only sports columnist to win a Pulitzer prize, has been with the Times since his graduation from Fordham University in 1926.

State Tapers Off for S. Illinois

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University tapered off with a one-hour practice here Thursday as preparation continued for Saturday's game with Southern Illinois.

The Indians reviewed offensive and defensive assignments and work on kickoffs and punting.

Coach Bill Davidson said the practice was snappy, which should indicate the Indians are familiar with what they hope to do against SIU.

"I think we're geared for a good performance," said Davidson.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There's a first time for everything.

Never in the 49-game series between Baylor and Arkansas has one team won more than three games in a row. The Razorbacks figure to break through Saturday night at Waco, Tex.

Arkansas has beaten Baylor the past three years and is a solid favorite this week. On paper Baylor appears over-matched.

The Razorbacks rebounded from a 21-20 upset by Tulsa to crush TCU 49-15 in their Southwest Conference opener last week. Baylor is 1-2 for the season, losing to Kansas 22-0 and Miami, Fla., 41-15 and edging Indiana 10-0.

Baylor is ahead of Arkansas in only one of the six team categories in the SWC—pass defense — and even that is deceptive since Arkansas' opponents have been behind and have had to throw.

Arkansas leads the conference in total offense, total defense and passing offense and is second in rushing offense and rushing defense.

The Bears have a couple of things going for them.

For one thing, the game is their conference opener.

For another, the Bears fared better against Arkansas during the 1960s than any other conference team except Texas. Baylor defeated Arkansas three times during the 60s and tied the Razorbacks once.

Arkansas always seems to give a big effort against TCU and then tail off against Baylor before building back up for Texas.

The memory of the Tulsa game should keep the Razorbacks from slipping up Saturday.

Arkansas 38, Baylor 14

Arkansas State University, idle last week, returns to action against Southern Illinois University Saturday at Carbondale, Ill.

SIU Coach Dick Tower is crying the blues, saying his top six defensive linemen probably will miss the game because of injuries.

ASU's defense has done a good job in the Indians' first two games, but the offense has been inconsistent, possibly because of inexperience in the offensive line.

Wichita beat SIU 26-24 last week with the big play—a kick return and two long passes. ASU also has big-play potential.

ASU 21, Southern Illinois 10.

Henderson and Southern State meet at Magnolia Saturday in the most important AIC game of the week. Henderson was up-ended last week by conference favorite Arkansas Tech and Southern State clobbered Harding 34-7.

Henderson may have a difficult time rebounding from the loss to Tech.

Southern State 14, Henderson 10.

Last week's record was 6-0, a perfect 1,000, raising the season's percentage to .846. Here

Friday, October 8, 1971

are other predictions involving Arkansas college teams:

Ouachita 20, UA-Monticello 7

Arkansas AM&N 33, Southern University 28.

Arkansas Tech 27, Florence, Ala., 21

Mississippi College 17, Harding 14.

Bobkittens in Victory Over Camden

By ALAN FOSTER

Star Sports Writer
How do you stop an angry Bobkitten? That was a question Camden couldn't seem to find the answer to as Hope defeated them 22-6 last night at Camden.

On their first possession Hope couldn't move, and was forced to punt from their own 39. Camden's Jerry Banks fielded the punt at the 30 and raced 70 yards for Camden's only score. The try for the two point conversion was no good. Camden 6, Hope 0.

Neither team could move until Hope capped a 54 yard drive in 9 plays on Larry Johnson's 6 yard touchdown with 30 seconds left in the half. Martindale's PAT was blocked and the teams went in at the half with the score tied 6-6.

The Kittens wasted no time in the second half as they nabbed the Panther quarterback in the end zone for a safety with 7:04 left in the third quarter. That made it Hope 8, Camden 6.

The rest of the third quarter was a seesaw battle until 6:10 left to go in the game, when James Robinson connected with Willard Willmon for a 29 yard touchdown. Martindale's PAT was good. Hope 15, Camden 6.

Jimmy Williams sailed the ball into the Panther end zone to start the fireworks again. Camden returned it to the 15 where on a 3rd and 10 Camden fumbled and Hope recovered. 30 seconds later Hope's Larry Johnson scored from the 6 yard line to make it Hope 22, Camden 6 after Martindale added the PAT.

With 1:36 left Hope recovered a Camden fumble at the 22. Unable to move they were forced to give up the ball on downs.

Camden ran 4 more plays but to no avail. The clock read 0:00 and the scoreboard Hope 22, Camden 6.

Defensive standouts for Hope were Tim Hart, Eugene Tyree, and Curtis East.

Next week the Kittens travel to Scrappier Country to battle Nashville.

Rosewall Is Leader in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Ken Rosewall, Australia's 35-year-old tennis artist, defeated his doubles partner and fellow countryman Fred Stolle 3-6, 6-0, 6-3, Thursday in the third round of the $50,000 International tennis tournament.

Stolle, brilliant in the first set, delighted the 2,200 fans with tremendous ground strokes and volleys and it looked as though another upset was in the making until Rosewall served the first game of the second set.

Carmichael today plays Roy Emerson of Australia.
